I used to wear turtlenecks in the winter to cover my neck and powdered makeup in the summer. I was skeptical at first as to whether it would work and I have to say, I'm really pleased with the outcome. It seems to keep improving each day and I'm 12 weeks out. I can't imagine anyone who would not want to have this treatment. My husband noticed first and then I began to notice the changes myself. My skin is smoother in the treated area when compared to the rest of my neck.

I am so excited about having gone through with the SculpSure procedure on my stomach! Dr. Miller and his staff were so phenomenal. I will admit, I was super nervous. I read about it hurting, but I felt no pain whatsoever. My before and afters are astounding to me and I just cannot believe I finally got rid of that damn stubborn belly fat!

I had the SculpSure procedure done back in September as a surprise from my wife. Other than some minor heat at the beginning, the treatment was pretty comfortable and quick. Slightly tender in the area the day after the treatment, but not bad, only felt like I had worked out the day before. Didn't really notice any difference for a week or two, but they said I would start noticing around six weeks. At the third or fourth week out, I had to tighten up my belt. Around the sixth week people started taking notice. I told the staff that they need to tell people to budget for new clothes as part of the treatment cost, because I had to throw out my larges and buy all mediums.

Before SculpSure, I tried one other non-invasive treatment, but I didn't see any results. My problem areas are my stomach and my flanks, which after having kids, have been really hard to change. When I came back to look at before and after photos, I was really happy with my results. I am very satisfied with SculpSure, and I'd definitely tell my friends to do it – some of my family already has!

The results have been AWESOME! I've lost almost three inches off my waist, and the skin looks smoother, which I never thought possible after having a baby. My clothes absolutely fit better! I don't have that muffin top thing going on anymore. I'm definitely more confident and it also motivates me to keep going and keep working out. If you feel good about yourself, it really can enhance the rest of your life. I'm really happy that I chose to come and have my consultation and go for it!
